O God, who makest glad with the yearly remembrance of the birth of thy only Son Jesus Christ: Grant that as we joyfully receive him as our Redeemer, we may with sure confidence behold him when he shall come again to be our Judge; who liveth and reigneth with thee and the Holy Spirit, now and ever. Amen.

A Christmas Carol

The Christ-child lay on Mary's lap,
His hair was like a light.
(O weary, weary were the world,
But here is all aright.)

The Christ-child lay on Mary's breast,
His hair was like a star.
(O stern and cunning are the kings,
But here the true hearts are.)

The Christ-child lay on Mary's heart,
His hair was like a fire.
(O weary, weary is the world,
But here the world's desire.)

The Christ-child stood at Mary's knee,
His hair was like a crown.
And all the flowers looked up at Him,
And all the stars looked down.

(available on-line from www.chapters.indigo.ca for $9.07 or from www.amazon.ca for $15.75)

How Readest Thou? Jesus asks. “The Guernsey Literary & Potato Peel Pie Society” is a delightful, poignant and moving fictional account of, well, a literary society established during the German occupation of the Isle of Guernsey. Among other things – a love story, a story of incredible courage and sacrifice, for instance - it illustrates the power and significance of reading. Other books to be considered in relation to this are “Proust and the Squid” by Maryanne Wolfe, “A History of Reading” by Alberto Manguel, and “The Diviners” by Margaret Laurence.

Tuesday, November 3rd "The Twilight of Atheism: The Rise and Fall of Disbelief in the Modern World" by Alistair McGrath (available on-line from www.chapters.indigo.ca for $23.72 or from www.amazon.ca for anywhere from $15.33 to $35.97, or see me for an excerpt).

Theologian Alistair McGrath provides a useful consideration of contemporary atheism in relation to Christian faith and knowledge. Other books to be considered are "The Devil's Delusion: Atheism & Its Scientific Pretensions" by David Berlinski, "When Atheism becomes Religion" by Chris Hedges, "God and the New Atheism" by John F. Haught, "The Disenchantment of the World: A Political History of Religion" by Marcel Gauchet.

Tuesday, December 1st "The Mind of the Maker" by Dorothy Sayers
(available on-line from www.chapters.indigo.ca for anywhere from $13.56 to $40.95 or from www.amazon.ca for a range of prices for used/secondhand copies or see me for an excerpt)

Intended, as part of a series entitled "Bridgeheads," to explore social, moral, and theological questions pertinent to the renewing of the thought and spirit of post-WWII society, this remarkable book examines human creativity from the Christian standpoint of our being made in the image of the Trinity and challenges many of our contemporary popular assumptions about the dominance of science as the form of knowing par excellence. Other books to be considered along with this are: John Polkinghorne's "Quarks, Chaos & Christianity", Steven Shapin's "The Scientific Revolution", John Lukacs' "The End of An Age ".

Tuesday, February 2nd, 2010 "The Shack" by Wm. Paul Young
(available on-line from www.chapters.indigo.ca for $8.79 or from www.amazon.ca for $8.00)

This contemporary bestseller has become a minor classic of the spiritual journey. Other books to be considered are John Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress" and Daniel Defoe's "Robinson Crusoe"!

Tuesday, May 4th, 2010 “Vermeer’s Hat: The Seventeenth Century and the Dawn of the Global World” by Timothy Brook
(available on-line from www.chapters.indigo.ca for $19.80 or from www.amazon.ca for $8.00)

Along with Shakespeare’s “The Tempest” and “The Merchant of Venice”, and John Darwin’s “After Tamerlane: The Rise and Fall of Global Empires, 1400-2000”, “Vermeer’s Hat” provides a fascinating and interesting account of earlier “global” worlds.

Readings from T.S. Eliot's "Murder in the Cathedral"
(Hot Mulled Cider & Cookies afterwards)

T.S. Eliot's play, "Murder in the Cathedral", provides an interesting and spiritually intense reflection upon the meaning of the Christ's Incarnation and the nature of Christian witness and martyrdom. Along with the historical matters about Church and State that belong to the Investiture Controversy, the play raises provocative questions about persecution and pretense, power and ambition, self-justification and service, sacrifice and love. This hour-long selection of readings or meditations from the play serves as an excellent Advent preparation for the celebration of Christmas.

Religious Poetry in Motion

Exhilarating. Exciting. And not just for a moment. The Word of God in prayer ... for the young at heart.

“The devices and desires of our hearts”; “a full, perfect and sufficient sacrifice, oblation and satisfaction”; “O God who hast prepared for them that love thee such good things as pass man’s understanding”; “forasmuch as without thee we are not able to please thee”; “Grant unto thy people, that they may love the thing which thou commandest, and desire that which thou dost promise”, the poetry goes on and on! The poetry of spirit and life that rides the current of God’s Word in prayer.

The prayers of the Book of Common Prayer are deep and memorable; they take hold of our souls and come to the surface of our hearts whether bidden or unbidden. Such is the power of God’s truth, irresistible and all-powerful. But to ride it means to wait for it. Waiting expectantly for the next wave to carry you into its excitement and meaning. “Blessed Lord, who hast caused all holy Scriptures to be written for our learning, grant that we may in such wise hear them...”

Here is poetry that carries you and sustains you, poetry that is prayer, prayer that is shaped and governed by the Word of God through the Creeeds and in the life of the Church, prayer that opens you out to the ocean of God’s love. Such is the Book of Common Prayer. Poetry in motion. “Read, mark, learn and inwardly digest.”

For the young, and the young at heart.

When He Returns

The iron hand it ain't no match for the iron rod,
The strongest wall will crumble and fall to a mighty God.
For all those who have eyes and all those who have ears
It is only He who can reduce me to tears.
Don't you cry and don't you die and don't you burn
For like a thief in the night, He'll replace wrong with right
When He returns.

Truth is an arrow and the gate is narrow that it passes through,
He unleashed His power at an unknown hour that no one knew.
How long can I listen to the lies of prejudice?
How long can I stay drunk on fear out in the wilderness?
Can I cast it aside, all this loyalty and this pride?
Will I ever learn that there'll be no peace, that the war won't cease
Until He returns?

Surrender your crown on this blood-stained ground, take off your mask,
He sees your deeds, He knows your needs even before you ask.
How long can you falsify and deny what is real?
How long can you hate yourself for the weakness you conceal?
Of every earthly plan that be known to man, He is unconcerned,
He's got plans of His own to set up His throne
When He returns.

- Bob Dylan
